- Deep Change, page 165. I did not get what I expected from Deep Change. "Discovering the Leader Within" sounds like a psychologized, self-absorbed look at leadership. Deep Change isn't that. Deep Change is the acknowledgement that nothing changes unless people change. People don't change unless a person, namely the leader, changes.

Deep Change: Discovering the Leader Within - Robert E. ...

Deep Change: Discovering the Leader Within is a valuable resource for leaders of organizations who desire to sustain excellence. It focuses on the constant choice we face towards slow death or deep change. To gain control, leaders must be willing to give it up, "to get lost with confidence" and "to walk naked into the land of uncertainty".

Deep Change: Discovering the Leader Within: Robert E. ...

Deep Change: Discovering the Leader Within Robert Quinn Deep change differs from incremental change in that it requires new ways of thinking and behaving. It is change that is major in scope, discontinuous with the past and generally irreversible. The deep change effort distorts existing patterns of action and involves taking risks. Deep change means surrendering control. (p. 3)

DEEP CHANGE - Keith Walker

"Deep Change Summary". Only when you know where you currently stand, you will be able to notice the issues that keep you back. And, when you notice such issues, do not wait for someone else to notice them and do something about it. Be a leader yourself, and become the change you want to see in your company.
